Chamber welcomes Ohio Bureau of Workers Comp CEO

William Mabe, the Ohio Bureau of Workers Compensation CEO met with over 40 business owners in Champaign County Wednesday. The event was sponsored by the Champaign County Safety Council a program of the Chamber of Commerce.

Director William Mabe spoke with business leaders on the changes and improvements being made at the Bureau.

“Workers compensation costs and creating a safe work environment are challenges faced by our local businesses,” stated Kelly Evans-Wilson Executive Director of the Champaign County Chamber of Commerce. “Director Mabe was able to share his insight on the direction of the BWC, which will benefit our businesses.”

Mabe was appointed by Governor Taft in November 2005 to head the state’s workers’ compensation program because of his strong track record of improving operations in need of turnaround. During the visit Director Mabe congratulated the Safety Council for completing its first year of reorganization.

“Through our Safety Council we are able to help businesses by providing direct savings to their workers compensation premiums,” stated Evans-Wilson. “We appreciate Director Mabe’s visit and support.”

The mission of the Champaign County Chamber of Commerce is for the purpose of advancing the commercial, industrial and civic interests of Champaign County and its trade area.
